

The Spiritual Significance Of Music

ATONEMENT

VICTOR VIEIRA

We believe that music sometimes can release through our lips what words can't say. Sometimes we look for the right word for hours, and this word becomes reality when we close our eyes and feel the sound of a melody involving us. This doesn't necessarily need to be a real word, it may be a moan, a cry, a smile, a "yeah". Music is one of a few resources that can elevate our soul into deep contact with the spiritual. Knowing this, always when we play, we try to dive into this reality, and elevate our souls through music, pour out our hearts, and see what happens. When music drives us into spirituality, good things are about to happen.
