

FOREVER IN TERROR

JOSH OWEN

I am not a very spiritual person but I have to say that music feeds my life. It can completely change how I feel in a matter of seconds. For a music lover, and anyone that knows or likes a song, music can bring back feelings of the past. Everyone in the world can relate to some type of music or song. Some write their own tune that makes their spirit fly. There are so many forms of music that people can relate to that it often makes people who they are, and who they associate themselves with. When you are a musician, music can be something so much more than just the songs you hear on the radio. For example, I listen to music constantly, and if it's not on for everyone to hear, it's on in my head. Without music I feel I would be empty and lost. I wouldn't be able to go to sleep without it, and wouldn't have any idea what I would be doing the next day. I've come to find recently that music is a passion, and a life that you live, and everyone seems to live it. I've never met a single person in my life that didn't enjoy some type of music, and because of music's spiritual significance in the world; I don't believe I ever will. To some music is life, but to everyone music is a part of life.
