

The Spiritual Significance Of Music

CHRIS MANCINI

Need help unraveling the spiritual significance and value of music? Musical energy like all energy in this phenomenal universe is a product of the unknowable, indefinable living mind of the spirit. We are living under the laws of created things that allow us to merge with this intelligence far too seldom. Through musical vibrations we celebrate our spiritual and human heritage, lament our spiritual and human limitations, and mimic the wondrous variation of the universe through the infinite melodic and rhythmic possibilities. We are ultimately on a path to enlightenment and unity with our sacred source. Music is the soundtrack for the journey of life.
